

ArtHouse

#Project Overview

Arthouse is a marketing project developed to build and grow a home décor and wall art brand in the digital space. The goal is not just to sell wall frames and decorative pieces, but to position the brand as a lifestyle choice that adds personality and character to any space. The project focuses on creating a strong visual identity and a consistent online presence that reflects elegance, creativity, and modern taste. Through strategic content creation, branding, and targeted advertising, Arthouse aims to connect emotionally with its audience and turn artistic pieces into must-have home elements .

#Project Objectives

Increase brand awareness across social media platforms Build a recognizable and consistent brand identity Drive engagement and community interaction Convert followers into loyal customers Boost online sales through targeted campaigns

#What Makes Arthouse Different?

Arthouse doesn't market products only — it markets atmosphere. Each piece is presented as part of a story, helping customers imagine how it transforms their living rooms, bedrooms, or workspaces into inspiring environments. The strategy combines creative visuals, relatable content, and performance-driven advertising to ensure both aesthetic appeal and measurable growth.
